

OKLAHOMA POSTCARDS

digitalprairieok.net/postcards

Discover more than 400 postcards spanning 70 years of Oklahoma history. Most of the postcards were commercially produced and document buildings, businesses, schools, places, people, and events from 1906 into the 1970s.

This collection features postcards from the George H. Shirk and Wayne Mackey postcard collections, donated by the Oklahoma Heritage Association to the Oklahoma Department of Libraries. The collection also includes items donated from other institutions and individuals.

You'll also find links to other historical postcard collections.

Do you have postcards from Oklahoma's past that you would like to donate? Deliver or mail them to the Oklahoma Collection, Oklahoma Department of Libraries, 200 NE 18 Street, Oklahoma City, OK 73105. Any donations will become a permanent part of the Oklahoma Collection at the Department of Libraries and will not be returned.

Visit digitalprairieok.net to discover more historical collections from the Oklahoma Department of Libraries.

Oklahoma digital prairie@ your portal to Oklahoma History

Oklahoma digitalprairie@ is also your gateway to powerful EBSCO reference resources made possible in part with funding from the Institute of Museum and Library Services. The resources include information on health, education, legal, and business issues. Plus, access millions of full-text magazine articles, explore hobbies, and get homework help!—digitalprairieok.net/discover

 OKLAHOMA
Libraries

 INSTITUTE of Museum and Library SERVICES